11/10/26

BOY Beginning of Year Literary and Math data overview

- K-2 focusing heavily on foundational skills,
- Passed out Literacy instruction and BOY data tiering sheet
- Acadience and iReady is not the end all be all (small literacy snapshot)
- Vocabulary development and reading comprehension go hand in hand
- Going over secondary screeners (ROAR, Acadience- Maze) why we use them and why they are important
- Ms. Previtti looking into piloting CSR-Reading
- Reading interventions - Tier 3 AIS, and in class small groups

Math interventions - Eureka : Equip/ Catalyst fluency shift

- Math interventions
- Equip leads into Catalyst, not free with the curriculum. It is designed for grades 1-5
- Catalyst is Tier 3 in Eureka. It is all in the program we currently use. How to navigate in grades 3-5.
- SOLVES initiative focusing on Math Fluency

Financial Literacy

- Layers of thinking, every class is doing financial literary 1x a week, 2 teacher leads from upper and lower grades attending meetings,

Classroom Libraries/ Independent Reading with a purpose

- Books in children's hands
- Working to build libraries back up
- Reading with a purpose- it should always have exposure and access to grade level books
- Filling libraries with rich grade level books

NYC Rise 55% Activation Rate

- It doesn't affect any setup you have with your child
- Completely free NYC program
- We have gone up since the beginning of the year
- Spike in the older grades

Student attendance 98.4

- Our student attendance rate is the highest its ever been a reason to celebrate!
- We grew 2% since this time last year

Legacy Bricks… ongoing

- Bricks are still going, 6 right now but we need about 20 to place them